Customer Testimonials

Narration of business success from the business itself

Intellocut has improved our cutting efficiency by effectively handling multiple fabric groups and planning all end pieces which would otherwise be wasted. This is a solution we would recommend without hesitation.

Aroon Hirdaramani
Director at Hirdaramani Group
Sri Lanka

Xinrimei started using Threadsol's solution intellocut from last year September. Throughout the period of the project from the beginning till implementation, team Threadsol offered us great help and large amount of resources. From half year of operation, this system not only helped us save fabric but also provide us with many accurate reports to evaluate our fabric suppliers and analyze the wastage for factory. Meanwhile it's able to support big database to make better and accurate decisions.

Mr. John Yu
Director at Xinrimei
China

Intellocut is a powerful business tool that has helped us standardize our cut planning process to achieve consistently high utilization of our fabrics across all sites

Narration of business success from the business itself

"One of the biggest improvements I get from intelloCut is the intelligence to command the process from the beginning- right from the fabric store to the cutting floor. It's like a common thread functioning in the factory that allows for an efficient feedback system. This coupled with automation can get us to become the best in the domain."
